How W. T. Stead Expects to Send Messages to Other World.

CHICAGO GHOST IN CHARGE.

Whole Scheme, According to London Editor, Is Idea of Mrs. Julia A. Ames, Once Editor of Union Signal, A. W. C. T. U. Organ-Consolation For Mourners and Joy to the Mourned.

woman who died seventeen years ago, has established a spirit telegraph office in London where mortals can communicate with the shades of departed loved ones.

Mr. Stead has relinquished all business affairs to give himself entirely to the work. He declares that he is merely the servant, acting under the complete direction of the Chicago wo-

The spirit is that of Miss Julia A. Ames, formerly editor of the Union Signal, the official organ of the W. C. T. U. in Chicago. According to Mr. Stead's statement, he has been discussing means for the spirit telegraph bureau with her ghost for fourteen years.

Mr. Stead in explaining the whole be at the disposal of any one who wanted to talk with dead friends or relatives in the other world.

"The world into which we pass at death is neither up nor down, as the ancient theory had it," declares Mr. our eyes, so that we cannot see it now. At death that veil is lifted, and we come into the other world as a blind man would come into the light were

"People who die go on living with perceive them, though they move in our midst. The bureau will establish communication between the two worlds. "I became well acquainted with Miss Ames some time before her death. made a pact with her dearest friend that she would, if possible, return from the other side and manifest herseif. She did so.

"Twice she came, and at the second instance I happened to be staying at the castle where her apparition had been seen. As my hand was beginning to write automatically then, I placed it at the disposal of Miss Ames, and she has used it as her own ever since." Mr. Stead quotes a "letter" from Miss Ames in part as follows:

I wanted to ask you if you can help me at all in a matter in which I am much in-terested. I have long wanted to establish a place where those who have passed over could communicate with the loved ones behind. At present the world is full of strange spectacle-on your side souls full of anguish for bereavement, on this side sorrow laden souls together?

What is wanted is a bureau of communication between the two sides. Could you not establish some such sort of office with one or more trustworthy mediums? If only it were to enable the sorrowing on earth to know, if only for once, that their so called dead live nearer than ever before, it would help to dry many a tear could count upon the eager co-operation of all on this side.

"I was too hampered by worldly affairs to do anything for a long time," says Mr. Stead, "but now I have given myself to the work. The proposition of the bureau is a serious one. The proposal to construct a bridge across the abyss will stagger most people by its audacity. I think with patience it can be done.

"The spirit of Julia has undertaken to direct operations. When any one who has lost a beloved one desires to communicate with him or her the sanction of the spirit director must first be obtained. Then the applicant, after complying with regulations, will be turned over to experienced mediums, who will transmit messages between the spirit and the mortal. If 10 per cent of the cases prove successful the bureau will be worth while."

MUST ELOPE CLUB.

Members Forced to Run Away and

Wed or Pay Heavy Fine. Elope or remain forever single. That is one of the rules in a club of ten young men of Jersey City, N. J. It is called the Must Elope club, and during the five years of its existence five of its members have eloped.

There is a reason for this obedience to the rule. If a member should be married in the ordinary way he would have to pay $50 into the club treasury-that is, he would have to do it or move out of Jersey City.

Baby as Hand Baggage. A tiny baby slept peacefully in a small "telescope" at the Union depot in Kansas City the other afternoon. It was a new method of caring for a child on a long journey. The mother, Mrs. Martha Johnson of Kokomo, Ind., explained that she was going to Los Angeles and found this method saved trouble in caring for the baby. "I have been around the depot eighteen years," George Henry, passenger director, said, "and I have seen bables carried about in all sorts of conveyances, but this is the first time I ever saw a child "toted" about in a suit case."

LONG ON ROOSEVELT HUNT.

Well Known Naturalist Calls "Whole Bloody Business" Brutslizing.

Dr. William J. Long, the former minister and naturalist, whose writings were bitterly attacked by Theodore Roosevelt, talked recently about Mr. Roosevelt's African hunting trip.

Dr. Long declares the worst feature of the whole business is the brutalizing influence which the reports from Africa have on thousands of American

"In one dispatch I notice that when he could not find buffaloes he had to content himself by shooting wart hogs William T. Stead, the noted English and other inoffensive creatures. As editor, acting under the direction of the buffaloes are fast disappearing the spirit of a well known Chicago from Africa and as Mr. Roosevelt had already killed several, why in the name of science should be go out to kill more, and why, failing to find buffaloes, should he content himself by slaughtering other creatures? "The whole thing is atrocious. It is exactly like his own record of killing eleven bull elk on one trip and then. on his way out, killing two more that he found fighting. Their meat was unfit to use and was left in the woods. Then he preached to us on the virtue of game protection, and when he comes back from this trip you will hear his righteous dissertation on the necessity for preserving game in Africa, of course, after he has killed everything he could find.

"The only thing we will get out of the much heralded trip will be some more hunting yarns, almost as veracious as Mr. Reosevelt's account of his heroic exploit at San Juan Hill, and some more skins and bones, of which we already have too many. The only one who will ever learn or teach anything of value is the man who studies the living animal, not the man who gloats over a dead one.

"The worst feature in the whole bloody business is not the killing of a few hundred wild animals in Africa, but the brutalizing influence which these reports have upon thousands of American boys.

"Only recently I met half a dozen little fellows in the woods. The biggest boy had a gun and a squirrel tail in his hat, and he called himself Bwana Tumbo. They were shooting everything in sight, killing birds at a time when every dead mother meant a nestful of young birds slowly starving to death. And how could I convince them that their work was inhuman? Is not the great American hero occupied at this time with the same detestable business? And why should not they also be heroic and make a few fine sheep and content themselves with robius and rabbits since faunal naturalists and other game butchers have killed off all our buffaloes?"

NEGLECT OF PENN'S GRAVE.

Americans Shocked at Weeds Which Almost Hide Inscription.

American tourists who recently paid a pilgrimage to the grave of William Penn at Chalfont, St. Giles, Buckinghamshire, twenty odd miles from London, England, have been burt by the neglected condition of the resting place of the founder of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Walter Lindley of Los Angeles, Cal., is highly indignant at what he describes as the disgraceful manner in which Penn's grave is kept.

"If such little reverence is going to and soothe many a sorrow. I think you be paid by Englishmen to Penn's resting place," said Dr. Lindley, "we Americans must take the great American colonizer's bones to Pennsylvania and raise a fitting monument to them.

> "Jordan's burial ground is a small. rough inclosure at the back of the Friends' Meeting house at Chalfont, St. Giles. It is a delightfully picturesque spot, appropriated to the sepulcher of Quakers, but no longer used. Here, I thought, as I entered the consecrated ground, is just the place that the simple hearted Quaker might have chosen for his last long sleep, but you may judge of my feelings when I found that Penn's grave was all but unmarked! Only a small stone distinguishes the grave from others. Weeds and rank grass almost obliterated the inscription."

Ex-Judge as Street Sweeper.

Having been ordered by his physician to resign his office as police magistrate and obtain employment where he could enjoy pure air and outdoor exercise, Thomas Stanton of East St. Louis, Ill., recently started to work as a street sweeper. As a magistrate he received an average of $300 per month. As a street sweeper he receives $1.50 per day. "I picked out this job because I believe it fills the requirements that the doctor says I need in order to regain my health," he explained. "I would rather work for $1.50 a day and be able to eat a square meal and sleep soundly than make hundreds of dollars a month, spend it all for medicine and doctors and be unable to eat and sleep. After my work now I feel better than I have felt in years, and I believe I am on the road to recovery." Stanton for a number of years was an umpire for the Texas and Pacific Northwest baseball leagues.
